DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to Applicant's amendment filed on 8/30/2004. Claims 1-2, 6, 8-9, 13-14, 16-18, 50-56 and 58-60 have been amended. Claims 10, 31 and 52 have been canceled. Claims 1-9, 11-30, 32-51 and 53-63 are pending.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-9, 11-30, 32-51 and 53-63 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The present invention is directed to method, system and computer program product for selectively encrypting one or more elements of a document using style sheet processing. The closest prior art, Hind et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,585,778) teach enforcing data policy using style sheet processing (i.e. Extensible Markup Language (XML) to specify a reference to stored data policy to be applied to document elements. Hind et al. do not teach the unique feature of "the stored policy enforcement object specifies visibility policy identifying an encryption requirement and a community of authorized views" and "applying style sheet(s) to an input document, thereby adding markup to each document element for which the policy enforcement objects specify a non-null encryption requirement" and "for creating an output document in which each element of the interim transient document for which markup notation has been added is encrypted in a manner that enables a key recovery agent to decrypt each of the encrypted element". Claims 22-42 claims a system for implementing the security policy using style sheet processing and means for applying the steps. Examiner considers the word means as device implemented in a workstation referencing in the Specification. The art of record, either singularly or in combination, fails to anticipate or render the above underline feature obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
